We have audited the accompanying consolidated statements of financial position of Food for the Hungry, Inc. and Food for the Hungry Foundation, Inc. as of September 30, 2006, and 2005, and the related consolidated statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended. These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the organization's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal controls over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall consolidated financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Food for the Hungry, Inc. and Food for the Hungry Foundation, Inc. as of September 30, 2006, and 2005, and the results of its consolidated activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

GIFTS-IN-KIND INVENTORY

Gifts-in-kind inventory consists of private donated commodities that are held by a third-party in an off-site storage facility. Food for the Hungry, Inc. receives the donations of commodities at these off-site storage facilities, which are then shipped to another nonprofit organization.

Depreciation is computed on the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, ranging from 2 years for software to 30 years for buildings.

TRUSTS AND ANNUITIES

Food for the Hungry, Inc. has established a gift annuity plan that allows donors to contribute assets to the organization in exchange for the right to receive a fixed dollar annual return during their lifetimes. A portion of the transfer is considered a charitable contribution for income tax purposes.

As trustee, Food for the Hungry, Inc. administers irrevocable charitable remainder unitrusts. These trusts provide for the payment of lifetime distributions to the grantor or other designated beneficiaries. At the death of the lifetime beneficiaries, the trusts provide for the distribution of assets to Food for the Hungry, Inc.

The difference between the amount contributed for gift annuities and irrevocable agreements and the liability for future payments, determined on an actuarial basis, is recognized as income at the date of the gift and is included on the consolidated statements of activities in contributions. The difference between assets in trust and liabilities is reported on the consolidated statements of financial position as net assets.

The present value of the expected payments to the trustors and annuitants over their life expectancy is included on the consolidated statements of financial position as a liability under the caption trusts and annuities. The liability is revalued annually based upon actuarially computed present values. The change in the present value, net of investment income, payments to annuitants, and terminations, is included on the consolidated statements of activities as change in value of trusts and annuities.

The present value of expected payments to annuitants over their life expectancy is $429,981 and $468,231, respectively as of September 30, 2006, and 2005. The present value of expected payments to trustors over their life expectancy is $84,325 and $89,703, respectively as of September 30, 2006, and 2005.

In March 2002, Food for the Hungry, Inc. purchased a Nonparticipating Terminal Funding Group Annuity from an insurance company. The purpose of this policy is to reinsure the gift annuity obligations of Food for the Hungry, Inc. The insurance company has assumed all mortality and investment risk associated with the gift annuities. However, Food for the Hungry, Inc. remains liable for fulfilling the requirements of the gift annuity agreements. The value of this policy has been determined to equal the outstanding annuity obligations of Food for the Hungry, Inc. and is included on the consolidated statements of financial position as gift annuity reinsurance asset.

As a result of the reinsurance of the mortality and investment risk associated with gift annuities, changes in the present value of expected payments to annuitants over their life expectancies from the date of the policy forward represent changes in the associated gift annuity reinsurance asset and not income to Food for the Hungry, Inc.

NET ASSETS

The consolidated financial statements report amounts by classification of net assets as follows:

Unrestricted amounts are those currently available at the discretion of the board for use in the organization's operations, those for specific purposes as designated by the board, and those resources invested in land, buildings, and equipment.

Temporarily restricted amounts are those which are stipulated by donors for specific operating purposes, for capital projects, and for time restrictions. See Note 7 for a summary of temporarily restricted net assets.

Permanently restricted amounts are those which represent permanent endowments where it is stipulated by donors that the principal remain in perpetuity and only the income is available as unrestricted or temporarily restricted, as specified in endowment agreements. Permanently restricted net assets consist of the Child Vocational Scholarship Fund. Each year, all or part of the investment income from the Child Vocational Scholarship Fund is available for award to graduates of the child sponsorship program for additional vocational training. The investment income can also be used by Food for the Hungry International staff toward funding of courses that would enable them to better serve the country in which they minister.

All contributions are considered available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor or subject to legal restrictions.

Contributions are recorded as temporarily restricted if they are received with donor stipulations that limit their use through purpose and/or time restrictions. When donor restrictions expire, that is, when the purpose restriction is fulfilled or the time restriction expires, the net assets are reclassified from temporarily restricted to unrestricted net assets and reported in the consolidated statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Food for the Hungry, Inc.'s policy is to record temporarily restricted contributions received and expended in the same accounting period as temporarily restricted contributions and net assets released from restrictions. Temporarily restricted contributions are subject to assessments ranging from 10% to 60%, which is used for general and administrative expenses. Assessments are classified as unrestricted contributions at the time the contributions are received.

For contributions restricted by donors for the acquisition of property or other long-lived assets, the restriction is considered to be met when the property or other long-lived asset is placed in service.

PUBLIC SUPPORT, REVENUE AND EXPENSES

Contributions are recorded when cash or unconditional promises-to-give have been received or ownership of donated assets is transferred to Food for the Hungry, Inc. Conditional promises-to-give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Food for the Hungry, Inc. receives noncash gifts which are recorded as support at the estimated fair market value on the date of the gift. Goods given to Food for the Hungry, Inc. that do not have an objective basis for valuation are not recorded.

Revenue is recorded when earned. Expenses are recorded when incurred in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting.

CONTRIBUTED SERVICES

Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 116, Accounting for Contributions Received and Contributions Made, requires recording the value of donated services that create or enhance nonfinancial assets or require specialized skills. Many volunteers have contributed significant amounts of their time to activities of Food for the Hungry, Inc. However, since the above requirements were not met, the value of the contributed services is not recorded in the consolidated financial statements.

FUNCTIONAL ALLOCATION OF EXPENSES

The costs of providing the various program services and supporting activities have been summarized on a functional basis. Accordingly, certain costs, such as depreciation and payroll, have been allocated among the program and supporting activities benefited.

ALLOCATION OF JOINT COSTS

Food for the Hungry, Inc. has implemented the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' Statement of Position 98-2, Accounting for Costs of Not-for-Profit Organizations and State and Local Governmental Entities that Include Fundraising. Food for the Hungry, Inc.'s policy is to allocate all costs of activities which have a fundraising component as 100% fundraising.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

8. GIFTS-IN-KIND:

Food for the Hungry, Inc. receives donations of food, clothing, medical supplies, and other commodities for use in relief and development programs. Food for the Hungry, Inc. transfers all such gifts-in-kind to Food for the Hungry International and similar not-for-profit organizations for ultimate distribution to the poor and hungry throughout the world.

Gifts-in-kind for the years ended September 30, 2006, and 2005, include $12,073,780 and $9,017,483, respectively, of commodities received through the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), of which $6,641,962 and $4,210,129, respectively, were distributed to foreign programs. The remainder was monetized overseas and the proceeds used in foreign programs. Such goods were valued at wholesale value using guidelines published by the United States Department of Agriculture and USAID. The remaining $18,943,217 and $23,783,136 for the years ended September 30, 2006, and 2005, respectively, relates to gifts-in-kind received through private donations, which were recorded at estimated fair value on the date of the gift.

Gifts-in-kind and government donated commodities were distributed as follows:

	September 30,
	2006	2005
Food for the Hungry International	$ 12,420,471	$ 9,562,750

In accordance with Interagency Standards established by the Association of Evangelical Relief and Development Organizations (AERDO), Food for the Hungry, Inc. only records the value of gifts-in-kind for which they were either the original recipient of the gift, were involved in partnership with another organization for distribution internationally, or granted the gift for use in a Food for the Hungry International program.

During 2005, Food for the Hungry, Inc.'s management voluntarily applied more rigorous verification requirements to external partners that facilitated gifts-in-kind to nonprofit organization recipients supported by Food for the Hungry, Inc. other than those received directly by Food for the Hungry International. One external partner that facilitated both donations and shipments did not meet these more stringent requirements and hence the value of those shipments are not included in this report. Only gifts-in-kind donations and shipments that could be substantiated by supporting evidence obtained from and verified by independent third parties were deemed acceptable for reporting in the current year financial statements.
